THE OLD WRONG WAY.

II the object of the egat's visit to Warsaw was to concellate the Poles, he has taken an unwise course to accompliate it. The arrest of a thousand Poles and the exite of many officers in order that he may attend a hall in safety, is in accordance with the policy the Russian czars, old and new, have pursued, but it has always hadroed restatance, and always failed. They have never yet tried the policy of concillating their domestic enemies, but have tried all etions have been hold republicans have an induced resistance, and always falled. They find that day it will be for three states have have never yet tried the policy of conceillating in its new dress and form. their domestic enemies, but have tried all means to cruch, and while they have crushed to show the New Chatasqua of the first because they don't hold size.

so as to read: "Congress shall have power to restablish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptoes and decorec throughout the United States."

Now comes The Cherchman, organ of the Episcopalians, and suggests an amendment to the amendment, namojr: that the word "marriage be inserted before the words "anid di verce." This amendment would not only be "la order," but it is one which Judge Davis would doubtless be very glad to "accept." netwithminding his suggestion that both would be copen to the objection that such distraction of the organic law would beat to "centralization."
